

<http://ees.elsevier.com/jprot/>

Editor-in-Chief: J.J. Calvete

Impact Factor was 3.851 → NOW 5.074
Journal Citation Reports® published by Thomson Reuters 2011

The Scientific Committee is pleased to announce that a thematic issue containing selected papers from the Congress entitled “CNPN 2012 Symposium: Proteomics from Protein Structures to Clinical Applications” will be published in the Journal of Proteomics. All manuscripts will be refereed according to the scientific standards of the journal. John G. Marshall and Pierre Thibault will act as Guest Editors for this issue.

Those wishing to submit a full-length article or a review article for publication in this issue will have the possibility to do so on-line, here as of 25 May 2012. The issue is due to appear early 2013. Final date of submission 1 July 2012

The corresponding author will receive, at no cost, a PDF file of the published article via e-mail, as well as a complimentary copy of the issue in which the article appears.

Instructions:

Manuscripts should be submitted electronically through the Journal of Proteomics website: <http://ees.elsevier.com/jprot/>

The authors should select SI: CNPN 2012.

The covering letter should be addressed to the Guest Editors.

Please clearly mention in your letter if your article is a original paper or a review article.

Please consult the Instructions to Authors before preparing your article.